

How to get to Formentera

How to get to Formentera Formentera is a real island, as it does not have an airport and is only accessible by ferry. The island of Formentera is the smallest of the Balearic Islands, which are located in the centre of the western Mediterranean, east of Spain. Formentera and Ibiza are the Pitiusas Islands. Ibiza and Formentera are separated by a small channel, "Es Freus", surrounded by smaller islets.

There are regular ferries to Ibiza and the Peninsula. One can take a ferry or fly to Ibiza and, once there, take a boat trip to Formentera. Ibiza Airport has international flights, by various companies, connecting the island to all major European cities. When you get to Ibiza, all that remains is a pleasant journey of 30 minutes (or 1 hour, depending on the type of ferry) to our beloved island. The 30-minute journey costs nearly 20 euros, while the 1-hour journey costs less than 10 euros. Interesting links to airlines flying to Ibiza Airport (www.aena.es), including low cost airlines Iberia www.iberia.com

Air Nostrum www.airnostrum.es

Clickair www.clickair.com

Air Europa www.aireuropa.com

Vueling www.vueling.com

Spanair www.spanair.com

Easyjet www.easyjet.com

Air Berlin www.airberlin.com

Lufthansa www.lufthansa.de

Niki www.flyniki.com

German Wings www.germanwings.com

Condor www.condor.com

Jetair www.jetairfly.com

LTU www.ltu.com

Jet2 www.jet2.com

Monarch www.flymonarch.com

Â

Interesting links to shipping companies (ferries to Ibiza and Formentera) Acciona Transmediterranea

www.transmediterranea.es

Balearia www.balearia.com

Iscomar www.iscomar.com

Ferries Ibiza-Formentera Mediterranea Pitiusa www.medpitiusa.net

Trasmapi www.trasmapi.com

Thanks to Mediterranea Pitiusa for helping the Posidonia Festival with transports.

Â

Â

Â Â